

CRAIG COBURN

Shareholder/director in the Salt Lake City law firm of Richards Brandt Miller Nelson

Bachelor of Science (Civil Engineering) and Juris Doctorate degrees from the University of Utah

For the better part of four decades:

- Primary practice is representing and counseling design professionals, owners and developers with the occasional contractor/subcontractor thrown in for balance, in a wide variety of matters, including design/construction defect cases, government affairs, and design/construction, and business transactions, as well in land use and real estate matters
- Adjunct Professor of Architecture and Civil Engineering at the University of Utah
- General Counsel to AIA Utah and ACEC Utah
- More notable pro bono efforts includes counsel to Utah Stream Access Coalition and 'actual innocence' work in Nevada
- Mediated or arbitrated over 300 construction and commercial matters
- Participated in another 500 or so mediations and arbitrations as counsel
- Former instructor for AAA Advanced Arbitration course